Race, Poverty and Gender*

More than 45 percent of the world lives in poverty, and women from minority groups face not only poverty but sexism and racism as well.

In the US in 2021, 1 in 9 American women lived in poverty. However, the poverty rates were different depending upon race with Native 21%, Black 18.8%, Latina 17%, and white women 8.9% compared to white men 7.1% living in poverty.

Those racial discrepancies double for US single women of color raising children: 42.6% of Native single mothers, 37.4% of Black mothers, and 35.9% of Latina mothers live in poverty.
